

FCC:

I am writing to your office concerning Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election.

I don't believe that a media company who gets to use the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest, should instead force the broadcasts that further their own political agendas. This is not the media we should have in a democracy, where ownership and power over the media are used to control and sway public opinion and the possible outcome of our country's future. It does not represent the people.

Please, we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. And the license renewal process should include guarantees and measures that ensure that the guidelines under which the country's airwaves are licensed be held strictly accountable to by the media companies.

Thank you.
